

What Issue Unites Barack Obama, John McCain, Ron Paul and Bernie Sanders?

COMMUNITY RADIO.

In these times of political polarization, there's at least one issue that Congress can agree on: getting more local voices on the public airwaves.

The Local Community Radio Act (S.592) could create thousands of new local radio stations across the country — giving educational, religious, emergency response and other nonprofit institutions the opportunity to broadcast in their communities.

This bill enjoys broad bipartisan support — and its counterpart has already passed the House — but secret holds in the Senate have stopped the legislation in its tracks.

Please don't stop local music, fresh perspectives and community news from coming to the public airwaves. Pass the Local Community Radio Act now.

Galen Carey
National Association of Evangelicals

Pete Tridish
Prometheus Radio Project

Josh Silver
Free Press Action Fund

Ellen Bloom
Consumers Union

Wade Henderson
Leadership Conference on
Civil and Human Rights

Andrea Cano
United Church of Christ, Office of Communication, Inc.

Maxie C. Jackson III
National Federation of Community Broadcasters

Bernie Lunzer and Jim Joyce
Communications Workers of America,
Media Sector

Michael Bracy
Future of Music Coalition

Gary Galloway
Newton County, Mississippi Emergency
Management Authority